The new energy landscape not active yet

According to Seda Orhan, a renewable energy coordinator at Climate Action Network Europe, many governments have “either just copy-pasted the definitions from other countries or they have put definitions which do not really allow the energy communities to be formed.”

Three benefits of community energy

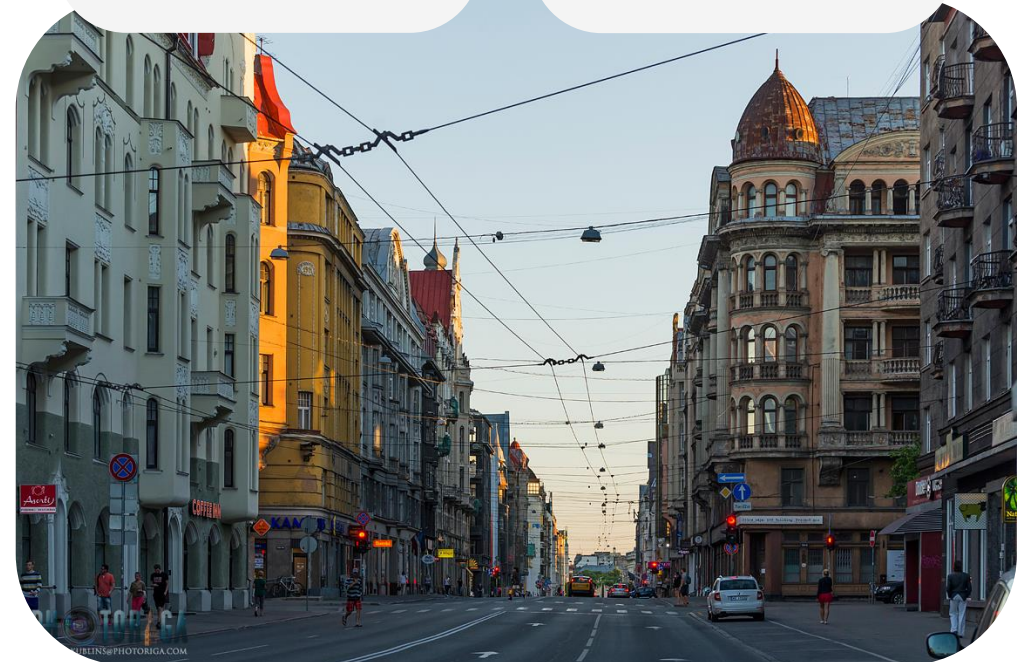

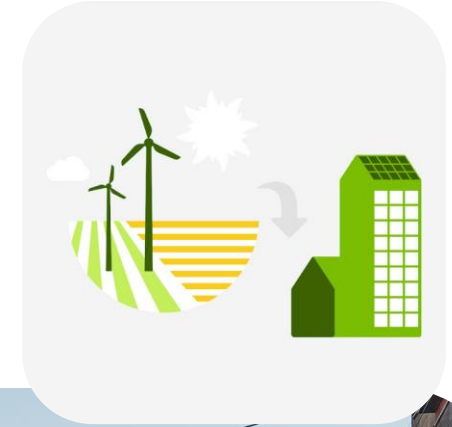

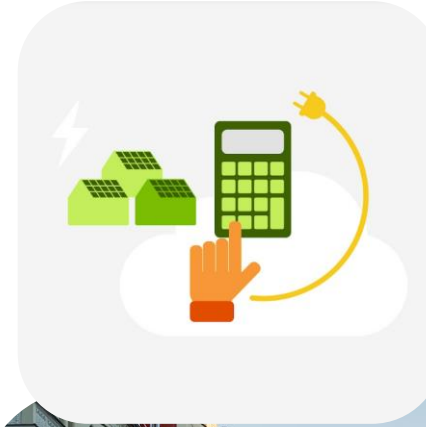

Energy citizenship

- Putting rights into action
- Negotiating established frameworks
- Taking active role towards climate neutrality
- Politics of energy systems
- Individual and collective opportunities in energy transformation

Urban change

- Property relations: access and belonging
- Environmental problems: mitigating pollution, reclaiming living space
- Regeneration and renewal: community without exclusion
- Sharing is in the «logics of space»
- EU Solar energy strategy
